COMMITTEE ON THANKS.

The hospitable entertainment of the Conference by the church and citizens of Rowland incites our gratitude and we hereby extend to them our hearty thanks. To the pastor of the church, Brother Woodell, for his courtesy and care of the preachers, we extend our thanks.

Our appreciation of the brotherliness and careful administration of our beloved Bishop Anderson we now express by a rising vote.

C. M. WHITE,
W. E. TOMKINSON.

AUDITING.

Having examined the books of W. J. Plint, Treasurer, we find them correct.

TEMPERANCE.

The evil of Intemperance is the greatest menace to the individual, the home, the State, the Nation and the Church.

We rejoice to say that our fair State is on the temperance list and thus our pastors have not the open saloon to fight. But we regret that an evil just as great has taken its place, namely, ordering by mail and the so called blind tigers. These two evils to a very large extent make of no effect the enactments of our legislature while the mail order houses are fast becoming rich.

We earnestly urge our people to co-operate with all Christians and organizations for the suppression of this gigantic evil and pursue with relentless vigor the hosts of the enemy.

W. J. PLINT,

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

On the 18th day of last April Bishop Anderson, appointed me Superintendent of the Atlantic Mission Conference. I did not want the job. I offered every excuse that I could. And as fast as I offered them the good Bishop would answer until I looked in vain for one. I had a good charge, a loyal people and a well furnished parsonage in one of the best towns in the South. I arrived in Morehead City the 30th day of May with my family. We were met at the station by the Rev. W. J. Plint who introduced us to the Charles Hotel. We soon found a good house and moved in.

The last day of May was spent with the Trustees of the Graham Collegiate Institute. I met the Rev. Z. Weston that day, he wanted me to take his work, I did so and appointed the Rev. W. A. Burnett of Chattanooga, Tenn., in his place who has done a splendid work. I also appointed Rev. C. M. White of Athens, Tenn., pastor of the Wildwood charge. Brother White has done faithful work. He reports all claims paid in full.

We have had good revivals in nearly all of our charges resulting in 300 conversions and 206 accessions. We have improved the following churches or parsonages: Marshallberg, Morehead City, Parmele, Ocracoke, Pates and Rowland, at a cost of $842. This conference comprises forty-five counties in North Carolina and seven in Virginia.

There may be some of our people who think that the Methodist Episcopal Church is not wanted in this part of the State. I speak after a very careful examination and say that there is a great demand for at least one hundred churches in this Conference now. I know that it will take "Grit, Grace and Greenback" to build these churches, but we have that as a Church. Why delay? A very large number of our church members from the North are coming this way every year they go into other churches because we are not there. Will we allow this to continue? A man of the business world would say no. Then what will the greatest evangelistic Church of America say?

I find in this Conference five stations, two half stations and seven circuits. All well located serving a good people. I think every charge has paid their pastors salary in full for the first time in the history of the Conference. The pastors have all stayed by their work and have moved quietly on.

We must build not less than ten churches next year. I want to call the attention of the Board of Home Missions and the Church Extension to this matter. We are unable to build churches by the score with six hundred dollars, the amount that you allow us.

I have secured about one hundred subscribers to the Advocate Journal, since I came to this conference. Brethren this is our church paper. I want you to see that it goes into every one of our church homes. One dollar spent in this way is the greatest investment that we can possibly make.

We have nine boys and girls in the Athens School of Tenn., from this Conference. And we can find others in every one of the fifty-two counties within the bounds of our Conference. Where shall they go to school? Shall they go to Athens, six hundred miles away? I answer in the name of every pastor and layman in this Conference and say no, a thousand times no. We must have a school well equipped in our midst that will do the work of our Zion.

Faithfully Yours,

J. H. WARREN.
